Keeper of the Lost Cities

by Shannon Messenger

You've read everything Rick Riordan ever wrote. You blazed through all seven Harry Potter books; what next? Try the Keeper of the Lost Cities series!

Sophie Foster is twelve years old when a strange kid named Fitz tells her a secret: she and Fitz are both elves, they both have magical powers, and Sophie will need to enroll in an elven academy to learn how to use them. Suddenly Sophie gets swept up into Fitz's world, where magical vegetables taste like cheeseburgers and T. Rexes are alive and well and live in her backyard. But why did Sophie grow up hidden among humans? Is her new friend keeping even more dangerous secrets from her?
